Andover's Parking Lots: How Safe Are They?

By Susan Rand

When you go shopping in Andover, dine out at one of the town's restaurants or lock your car and walk to your office the last thing you expect is for your auto to be missing when you decide to head for home.

How safe is it to park your car in one of Andover's big parking lots? Eleven people would tell you they are sorry they left their cars parked here. Another 37 were lucky, at least their cars were where they had left them. The problem is the autos were sans license plates, dented or had smashed windshields. One car owner even found the family pet dog missing upon returning to a car parked in Andover.

Vandalism to automobiles in Andover does exist. Whether it is at critical levels depends on who you ask. There were 11 stolen cars, 37 acts of vandalism and 17 parking lot accidents that took place in Andover from March 13 through the month of August. Compare that six month tally to the total number of cars stolen in Methuen for the first six months of the year and you'll find Andover is a safer place to park. In the neighboring town 242 automobiles were stolen from January to June 30, 86 of those taken from the Methuen Mall shopping center.

The total of 65 vandalized autos was culled from the Andover police logs, reported weekly in THE TOWNSMAN. A breakdown of those incidents shows that a majority of the damage took place in the Shawsheen Plaza parking lot. The large lot, located off North Main Street, was the site of 16 crimes committed on autos in town. Three cars were stolen from the plaza, six were vandalized and seven were involved in accidents there. Next on the tally were the parking areas at Raytheon Missile Systems Division, 350 Lowell Street, where nine cars were vandalized and two were hit.

Four cars were vandalized at Gould-Modicon, Haverhill Street; and two were damaged and two stolen from the parking lot at Valle's Restaurant, River Road. Other incidents involving damage and/or theft to three or fewer cars took place at a number of other private parking lots in Andover. Cars were stolen from lots at the Internal Revenue Service, 310 Lowell Street; Barcelo's Market, 68 Main St; Sheraton Rolling Green, Lowell Street, where two cars were stolen; GCA, 7 Shattuck Road and the Indian Ridge Country Club, Lovejoy Road.

It would be too expensive to hire security guards to patrol the Shawsheen Plaza lot, said its owner Gordon Bloom, a real estate management company official at Marathon Realty Management, in Newton. So Bloom has settled for having the Andover Police Department patrol his lot, which he conceded has become a convenient place for people to dump their trash.

"We feel a responsibility to keep the area clean," Bloom said. "People dump their old tires in the lot. People who have things to dump don't have any place to dump things anymore and guards are enormously expensive. I don't know of any shopping center who does that" (hires security guards.)

Bloom, who has owned the lot since 1960, said he would appreciate telephone calls from those living near the shopping center when they see suspicious activities in the parking lot.

Police Chief James Johnson spends a lot of time watching and responding to vandalism in the town lots. The accidents, where one car "dings" another when pulling out of a parking space are more often "anonymous" accidents said Johnson. The chief explained that because no-fault insurance costs those who are involved in accidents a surcharge just to report an accident people tend to just drive away from an accident instead of leaving their name and telephone number on the windshield of the car they hit.

As for stolen cars, Johnson said some of them end up out of town at "chop shops" where they are taken apart and illegally sold for parts. In addition the Shawheen lot is in a bad spot because the nearby Papa Gino's restaurant, Radio Shack store and McDonald's restaurant, where two cars were vandalized, attract youths who may end up stealing or damaging cars, said Johnson.

"I don't know how you eliminate vandalism," Johnson said. "And if you had an answer for how you could stop car theft it would be perfect."

One company, Raytheon, has gone a long way to protect the cars of its employees, said the police chief. Installation of a fence around the lot and around the clock security guards help prevent car damage and theft there, he said.

But with its nine vandalized cars Raytheon is still not immune to damage. Industrial Relations Manager Dan Mulcane refused to discuss the security procedure at Raytheon, adding that he didn't know enough about the system. In addition, he said he didn't know who else in the company to refer THE TOWNSMAN to for comment.

At Gould-Modicon, Haverhill Street, Ray Poliquin, in charge of security at the company, explained that some 1,200 cars park in the company's six lots over the course of a day. But, he said, the four vandalized cars were parked in the lot furthest from the buildings. Seniority dictates who parks closest to Gould, said Poliquin, and about 750 cars end up parked in the "back lot" each day.

Administrators Begin Without Contract

Andover's 22 school administrators will go back to school this week without a new contract—something they have been negotiating for since spring.

Both sides in the contract talks haven't met since school ended in June and a meeting hasn't yet been planned, said Will Hixon, an assistant principal at Andover High School who is on the administrators' negotiating team.

"Not a word has passed in two months," he said, because of summer vacations scheduled by many of those involved in the contract negotiations.

The school administrators are represented by their union, the Teamsters Local 380. They are meeting with the Andover School Committee and legal representatives for the committee, explained Hixon.

Because their old contract has expired the school employees are working under the terms of that old contract, he said, which will carry on for up to a year after it has run out.

At the end of June contract talks stalled over a reorganization in the school administration that saw the School Committee transfer six administrators from their positions back into the classroom and therefore out of the administration's ranks. The administrators protested the move, which they said would threaten the consistency of school programs, and tried to get the committee to reconsider the decision. The decision was not changed and the six program advisors are starting this week in their new roles as classroom teachers.

Hixon said he hopes a meeting will be planned for the first few weeks of this month because both sides have presented proposals and counter-proposals that haven't yet been discussed.

Fall Programs Beginning At DCS

The Department of Community Services Fall Booklet was mailed to Andover homes this week. Residents who have not received a copy can pick one up at the DCS office in the Town Offices. The booklet describes the wide variety of programs being offered by the department.

Registration for all classes will be held Wednesday, Sept. 12, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the West Junior High School auditorium. Registration will continue each day until classes begin September 24.

The programs are a combination of repeated courses and new courses. Among the new programs are:

Monday: Joyce Heinlein will teach Machine Embroidery and Monogramming, a six-week course on how to embroider and personalize gifts and personal items with a zig zag sewing machine.

Home Video-Consumer Know-How will provide information to help make the right purchase. This five-week class meets at the high school from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Stretching Out-Grades 7-9 is a complete physical fitness program meeting Mondays and Wednesdays from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. at South School.

Family recreational swimming will be available in late October at the Phillips Academy pool. Two sessions, each lasting four weeks, will be offered: Mondays from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Tuesday: An eight-week course in fly tying will meet at the high school from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Parenting Your Adolescent is a three-week mini-course that will focus on dealing with adolescents and how parents can communicate with them.

Tissue Silk Flowers, a course on creating authentic-looking flowers, will be offered Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the senior center and Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at West Junior High School, beginning October 3.

Joan Howe will hold a two-night workshop in Total Body Massage October 30 and November 1 at Sanborn School from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Wednesday: A one-time workshop, Hypnosis: A Natural Way to Self-Improvement, will be held Wednesday, Oct. 3, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at West Elementary School.

A Glass Etching Workshop will be held November 7 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Doherty Junior High School.

Adult recreational swimming will be held for eight weeks at the Phillips Academy pool from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Break Dancing-Grades 7-9 begins Wednesday, Sept. 26, at the Willows Racquet Club for six weeks from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Thursday: Getting to Know You will cover techniques used to get to know people quickly in a one-time workshop on October 4 at West Elementary School from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Helen McLaughlin will teach two S.A.T. preparation workshops at the high school for high school students: Analogies, October 4 from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Reading Comprehension, October 18, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Greek Conversation I will be taught for eight weeks at the high school on Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Total Yoga Workshop will include hatha yoga postures, breathing exercises and instruction in meditation at the senior center on October 25 from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Saturday: Break Dancing-Grades 1-6 will teach the basics of break dancing at Willows Racquet Club from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Nautilus Clinic will be held Saturday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Willows Racquet Club.

Phillips Academy will offer a number of evening study programs, including Squash Instruction and Play; Etching and Basic Printmaking; Italy: An Armchair Tour; and Archaeology of the Merrimack Valley. Registration and general program information can be found in the Fall program booklet.

Bodywise will teach several fitness programs, including Aquacise, water-wise with Bodywise and Aerobicise. Bodywise fitness programs offer a lively class format, beginning with warm-up exercises, a variety of aerobics and ending with graduated relaxation moves.

Exhibit

The contemporary life of the Navajos and the Hopis is the focus of a dramatic photography exhibit which opens in the Peabody Museum of Salem's Mifflin Gallery on September 14 and remains on view until May 1985. The photographer is Susanne Page; the exhibit is "An Invitation to the Spirit World."

In 1974 the Hopi Tribal Council, having seen and admired an earlier book about the Navajos by Page, broke decades of self-imposed isolation and asked Page and her husband, Jake, to prepare a book about the Hopi people. Overruling a tradition that had discouraged photography on the reservation since 1910, the council invited the Pages to record present-day Hopi life. Eight years and 22 reservation visits later, "Hopi" was published by Abrams. "An Invitation to the Spirit World" consists of 48 photographic prints selected by Page from her two critically acclaimed books.

North Parrish Choral Society An Inter-Community Chorus

By Helen M. Eccles

David Tierney

Members of the North Parrish Choral Society will clear their throats next Wednesday evening, listen for the pitch and begin a new season of singing together for pleasure and performance in a new meeting place, Andover's Sanborn School, and under a new conductor, David Tierney.

At the first rehearsal, Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p.m., Tierney will look for new singers from the communities of the Andovers and Readings and environs to join them. Experience, he says, is less important than the desire to sing and willingness to commit one's self to the regular Wednesday evening rehearsals. The North Parrish Choral Society will give three concerts. The new conductor is adding a pops concert in June to the more traditional and classical winter and spring concerts.

Who are the singers—who's eligible? What is this North Parrish Choral Society—and isn't that name spelled wrong?

They are a varied collection of men and women of all ages and walks of life who like to sing. Some are shy, some are confident singers. Some have sung only in showers before they joined this community chorus, others have sung in church choirs and other trained groups.

These North Parrish singers free themselves from the preoccupations of work and home for two hours a week, September to June, to become absorbed in the discipline and camaraderie of singing together and the satisfaction of being shaped by a highly trained choral conductor into achieving fine music together. Their work builds up to the tangible accomplishment of a concert just before Christmas, a Spring concert and, this year, a lighter Pops concert in June.

North Parrish is the way to spell it. "Parrish" is an old English word for a geographical region, not just the congregation of a particular church. The group of singers began a number of years ago as the North Reading Choral Society, but soon attracted singers from farther afield. So many towns were represented that six years ago they decided that the North Parrish Choral Society was a more appropriate name for this community chorus that ties several towns together. One wag in the group has suggested another name—"The OK Choral"—but was squelched; the North Parrish Choral Society they remain.

Singers now come from Andover and North Andover, North Reading and Reading, but also from Acton, Bradford, Chelmsford, Burlington, Lynn, Methuen and Wilmington. If you love to sing, then the North Parrish Choral Society will welcome you next Wednesday evening in the Sanborn School, Lovejoy Road, Andover, between Dascomb Road and Route 133. Contact David Tierney, 181B Dale St., Waltham; Bob Forgione, 98 Locust St., Burlington; or Sandi Rehe, 3 Hampton Lane, Andover.

Hospitals Join To Offer New Diagnostic Service

Merrimack Valley Health Services, Inc. (MVHS), a non-profit corporation representing seven acute care hospitals in Merrimack Valley has submitted a DoN application to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health to request approval to construct and operate a free-standing Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) facility. The proposed facility will be located in North Andover near the intersection of Route 114 and 125 on the proposed site of the North Andover Business Park. Hospital trustees, physicians and administrators from Amesbury Hospital (Amesbury), Anna Jaques Hospital (Newburyport), Haverhill Municipal (Hale) Hospital, Lawrence General Hospital (Lawrence), Lowell General Hospital (Lowell), St. John's Hospital (Lowell), and St. Joseph's Hospital (Lowell) have participated in this unique multi-institutional planning effort.

MRI represents a major advance in non-invasive diagnostic imaging which will revolutionize the way physicians study cancer, heart disease, Alzheimer's disease, multiple sclerosis, brain tumors, stroke and other serious illnesses. Ongoing research will unveil numerous other uses for this technology. Dr. Kenneth Peelle, a member of the Physicians Advisory Committee of Merrimack Valley Health Services, Inc. and Chief of Radiology, St. Joseph's Hospital in Lowell said, "MRI forecasts the opportunity to diagnose pathology early in the disease process and to monitor the course of treatment for a particular disease. The advantages sum up to improved quality medical care with less hospitalization and reduced costs."

A free standing facility is proposed because of the advantages it offers, most importantly a site and service which is available and accessible to all patients, hospitals and doctors. Existing MRI utilization is approximately 80 percent outpatient. The experience of the MRI unit at New York Hospital demonstrated that critically ill patients have comprised less than five percent of all patients. Consequently, the planning group determined that it was imperative to build the facility on a site which is in the center of the Merrimack Valley population base and easily accessible to all Merrimack Valley residents.

Nathaniel Bond, President of Merrimack Valley Health Services, Inc. and Chief Executive Officer of Hale Hospital (Haverhill) said, "MVHS, Inc. was created by these seven hospitals in the spirit of cooperative health planning as a multi-institutional effort to provide a clinically imperative diagnostic service for the region. Absent this regional approach, Merrimack Valley area residents would have to travel to Boston to benefit from this state-of-the-art technology. The high cost of the equipment, approximately $1.5 million would have prohibited any one hospital from being able to provide the service in a responsible and cost effective manner."

The Department of Public Health estimates that the average cost of an MRI scan will be $400 to $800 compared to $300 to $600 for CT scans.

Approximately 15 scans per day or 4,100 per year at an estimated cost of $475 will be performed at the Merrimack Valley MRI facility.

Launch Writing Project

The 1984-85 school year will mark the implementation of a new interdisciplinary writing project designed to improve student writing at Andover High School. In collaboration with the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, a team of four Andover teachers led by Carolyn Parker Kelly and including Sarah O'Brien, Christine Kefeler-Keown and Kathleen Scanlon, began the project this summer with a week-long training session at Amherst. During this time, teachers wrote themselves, participated in seminars with noted writing instructors, and formulated curriculum plans for the coming school year. This September, team members will integrate the new writing curriculum into two interdisciplinary courses, American Studies and Odyssey: World Studies.

Two major goals of the writing project are: one, to help students develop the ability to serve as critical readers of their own writing; and two, to enable students to use the writing process as a means of developing thinking skills including comparison, analysis and synthesis.

According to Carolyn Parker Kelly, leader of the Andover team, "The assumption underlying the work done at the University of Massachusetts is that we finally teach our students to read and evaluate their own writing in the same way that we, their teachers, do. If we can help our students to become more knowledgeable readers by involving them in every step of the writing process, they will be able to apply the critical skills we have modelled to improve their own writing."

Andover team members will return to Amherst in fall 1984 and spring 1985 for Writing Project conferences, and personnel from the project will visit Andover High School regularly during the year. In the fall of 1985, Andover High School will become one of the university's demonstration sites, a resource and model for other schools interested in improving student writing skills.

Freeze Groups Recruit Support

Members of Andover Citizens for a Nuclear Freeze and the Greater Lawrence Interfaith Council for a Nuclear Freeze will sponsor a Freeze Voter '84 door-to-door canvass in portions of Andover and Lawrence on Saturday, Sept. 8. The volunteer effort will recruit voters who pledge to support pro-freeze candidates in the next election, and enlist volunteers and donations to help the national Freeze campaign.

There will be 50 volunteers canvassing Precincts 1, 2 and 3 in Andover and Wards 5 and 6 in Lawrence, according to Don Battez, local Freeze Voter '84 Canvass Coordinator. "This is one of several events we have been undertaking to focus the overwhelming support for a Nuclear Freeze upon the upcoming elections," he said.

Several members of the Andover Citizens for a Nuclear Freeze who will be among those ringing doorbells are: Ann Guzowski of Locke Street, Tom Meyers of Rennie Drive, Walter McKertich of Washington Avenue and Joyce Robinson of Wild Rose Drive.

Katherine Robinson, local coordinator for the Andover/Lawrence canvass in June noted, "It has been exciting to see the outpouring of interest in this area. In June we visited 1,000 households, recruiting 386 freeze voters and 31 volunteers." She added, "We expect to double this number in September. Now that our State Freeze Voter convention has chosen to endorse political candidates, we will be able to share information on the candidates for the first time."

Saturday's canvass is one of 20 such canvasses planned nation-wide for this weekend. "We expect to be joined in our local canvassing effort by several participants in previous Freeze Voter canvasses, which have been held throughout Massachusetts this Spring and Summer," said Battez. Canvassers will meet at GLEAM, 2 Wyman St., Lawrence, at 11 a.m. for a brief training session and pot luck lunch before the canvass. Volunteers are welcome. Those interested should contact Katherine Robinson, 50 Wild Rose Drive, Andover.

Bike Trip

Dave Williams and John Bently, leaders of the summer evening bike trip program, are planning a 55-mile round trip bike ride to Newburyport on Saturday, Sept. 8. Weather permitting the trip will begin at 9 a.m., from Central Park, Bartlet Street.

A "Very Special" Summer For A Young Actress

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Shorey Walker went back to school today. But the summer just behind her was a "very, very special" one for the West Junior High ninth-grader: It was a summer spent at Stagedoor Manor, an upstate New York theatre camp for young performers with professional ambitions.

During nine weeks at Stagedoor, the last three on scholarship, Shorey garnered three awards (and two more nominations), including an award for outstanding achievement as a dancer.

Shorey, 14, hopes to someday sing and dance on Broadway — although she'd "settle for anything" that would let her entertain professionally (television, for instance). Stagedoor Manor gave her a summer-long taste of the actor's life with a rigorous daily routine of classes, rehearsals, and roles in three musical productions.

And in one of her summer's most "exciting" experiences, she was also part of a Stagedoor group that presented a musical revue at three of the biggest nightclubs in the Catskill Mountains of upstate New York, where Stagedoor is located.

From June 24 to Aug. 26, this was Shorey's third summer at Stagedoor Manor in Loch Sheldrake, N.Y. Last year and the year before, she attended the camp for three weeks; this year, she had planned to attend for six, but the camp's directors asked her to stay for the final three-week session of the summer, on scholarship. That, Shorey says, was "an honor."

Shorey — dark-haired, slender and pretty — is the daughter of Josie and Roger Walker of Kenilworth Street, and the sister of Sarah, 12, and Nathan, 10. She is a veteran of the Y.M.C.A.'s "Jelly Beans" performing group (directed by her mother, who is a music teacher at West Elementary School), and of the children's division of Andover Community Theatre (A.C.T.).

During the school year, she takes singing lessons from Bada Lorenzo at Phillips Academy, and jazz dancing lessons from Becky Arnold of Andover (in adult classes, her mother notes.) She has been dancing since her preschool years, when she started taking classes at the Y, and musicals are still her first love.

"My Mom really got me into music," Shorey explains. Mrs. Walker also serves as a director for A.C.T. Shorey's first part, as a fifth-grader, was in an A.C.T. summer production of Carousel (she was in the chorus of Snow Children), and that "got me into it. I just started going."

Shorey Walker

Besides singing and dancing with the popular Jelly Beans, she has acted in two Andover High School musical productions, The Music Man and The Sound of Music; and in the A.C.T. productions No, No, A Million Times No (she played Gwendolyn Finefeathers) and You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown (she was Snoopy).

As a seventh-grader, Shorey played in The Pink Panther Strikes Again with the WJH Drama Club. Last spring, she tried her hand at directing a cast of elementary school actors in an A.C.T. musical production of The Wizard of Oz. Shorey's also been one of the West Side Singers, and, last year, a WJH football cheerleader.

It's not surprising that someone as enthusiastic as Shorey is about performing would enjoy the total immersion of a summer theatre camp. But Stagedoor Manor is much more than a camp, Josie Walker emphasizes: "It's a school, a performing arts training center. They really stress the educational aspects there — the children are not there just to have fun."

Stagedoor is staffed by theatre professionals — from directors and choreographers to stage managers — who have either "years of experience on Broadway or advanced degrees," Shorey's mother says. "They're really phenomenal teachers." The camp has a separate staff of counselors as well.

Operated by Carl and Elsie Samuelson, the camp is located in a former summer resort (which explains its indoor and outdoor pools), and features five theatres in which its young performers can show their stuff.

Each summer, the camp meets in three three-week sessions, each of them attended by about 250 campers, from 8 to 18. (Shorey was one of four Andover students who attended Stagedoor Manor this summer, including her sister, Sarah.)

All "exceptionally talented," many of the campers are professional actors and actresses who look "vaguely familiar," Mrs. Walker says, because they've starred in nationally-broadcast television commercials. Shorey notes that her best friend at Stagedoor played the major role of Pepper in a Broadway production of Annie.

The students stage 30 shows every summer at Stagedoor, 10 during each of the three sessions, and every camper auditions for parts and appears in at least one show. Most of them are musicals, Shorey says, although some "straight" plays are produced, too.

Preparing for those productions is the most demanding part of the Stagedoor routine, Shorey says. "You need to put a lot into them, to try your hardest to do well," she explains. "It's very challenging. The entire thing is very challenging — you're never sitting around."

Sitting around is not on the schedule at Stagedoor. After breakfast, Shorey's day began with two classes; she took a dozen classes this summer, including voice, jazz and modern dance, mime, television acting and audition technique.

In the afternoon, she took a "cabaret" (singing and dancing) workshop led by the camp's artistic director, Jack Romano, then enjoyed about an hour of recreation time (usually spent swimming or playing baseball).

Two hours of rehearsing for the major productions followed, with more rehearsals scheduled after dinner. From 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., Shorey says, she was "always busy."

Every show is staged before a full house, with fellow campers as well as family members in the audience. Campers are required to observe their peers' shows, and afterwards the directors offer critiques of each production. "It's treated as a learning experience," Mrs. Walker explains.

During her first summer at the camp, Shorey was honored for outstanding achievement in a bit role for her performance as Gloria in The Wizard of Oz; last year, she was nominated for the same award for her performance as Jane in Stop the World, I Want To Get Off.

This year, she played in three major shows: Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, a musical, in which she was a narrator; By Strouse, a musical revue in which she played a central role; and the famed musical West Side Story, in which she played Anybodys.

Shorey was named best actress in a major supporting role for her part in Joseph, and best feature performance in a musical for her West Side Story role. She was nominated for acting honors for her role in By Strouse, and for her dancing in West Side Story. And she was honored for outstanding achievement as a dancer for her classroom work.

These honors are "very, very special," Shorey's mother says. "We are just so thrilled. You might not think it's a big deal, but when you consider the caliber of children she was in competition with, it is a big deal to have won these awards. It's a substantial honor."

Besides the trophies she brought home for those awards, the young actress also brought home memories of performing at three of the Catskills' biggest clubs — The Browns, The Concord, and The Raleigh.

Jack Romano's cabaret troupe of about 40 campers staged a musical

Recycling Center Continues to Serve

The drop-off recycling station, located in the downtown parking lot at Park and Bartlet Streets, continues to receive paper and clear and green glass from regular recyclers and is also attracting new recyclers.

With the placement of an empty glass bin on Aug. 30, the paper and glass containers are now side by side. The entire back end of the paper bin is open and people with bundles of paper are urged to walk all the way in so that a wall will not be built up blocking the entrance. Sections of the open top glass container are separated for clear and green glass. Brown glass is not collected.

There has been a problem caused by those who leave trash and non-recyclable materials at the center. Some townspeople who are in the habit of dropping off goods for Goodwill may not realize that those bins, painted yellow and marked Goodwill, are now in the Barcelos parking lot.

A curbside collector at an affordable price is still being sought but in the meantime Andover's drop-off center is able to handle the large volume of the town's recyclables very well.

To Monitor TV Habits

Families in Andover will participate in a test designed to measure the viewing habits of people throughout the Boston television area, utilizing a new electronic device — the "PeopleMeter." The test, to be conducted by AGB Television Research, Inc., is a prelude to introducing a new method of measuring the size of the television audience throughout the U.S.

Over 400 families will take part in the test. They will be chosen by a random-selection process and contacted by AGB Television Research, starting in September. The test itself will get underway in the fall and extend through July 1985.

The heart of the "PeopleMeter" is a remote, portable handset similar to that now used with remote-control television sets. It contains eight numbered buttons and each member of the family is assigned his/her own number. Each television set in the house has its own handset.

Whenever members of the family start watching television, they press their number on the handset. They press it again when they stop viewing. The "PeopleMeter" automatically keeps tabs on what channel they are watching, stores the information in a microprocessor and feeds that information to AGB about 2:30 a.m. through the family telephone lines. By the next morning, TV stations, advertisers and advertising agencies have precise data on how many and what kinds of people watched what programs the prior day.

Mr. Norman S. Hecht, president of AGB Television Research, Inc., emphasizes, however, that "all information we collect will be kept completely confidential, including the names and addresses of the panel members. We will merely provide data for the group as a whole. Specific information relating to the participating families will never be revealed."

Currently in Boston, the A.C. Nielson Co. and Arbitron compile estimates of television viewing from a sample of homes by using a meter which shows when families have their television sets turned on. However, information as to who is actually watching is obtained by having families keep a diary of their viewing for seven days.

Mr. Hecht, who was vice president and general manager of Arbitron Television for six years, believes the diary method is no longer reliable. He points out that approximately one third of all families in the country now have access to 21 or more channels and many people no longer watch programs from start to finish. Remote tuning capability plus the availability of many specialized shows result in many viewers "zapping" commercials or uninteresting program material to watch other channels during a half hour or hour and then switching back to their original choice.

As a result, Mr. Hecht claims, "too many diary entries must be made too often. Our memories cannot cope with the demand, especially if we choose to wait and write the entries in later. What's more, recent industry studies have illustrated the defects of the diary system."

The "PeopleMeter" eliminates the need for people to make any written entries or recall what they have viewed.

The "PeopleMeter" project has elicited strong interest throughout the television and advertising industries with 26 companies currently providing financial support. These subscribers to the AGB test include the ABC and CBS networks, Home Box Office, the USA cable network, the Gillette Co. and 16 advertising agencies including three major agencies in Boston: Hill, Holiday, Connors and Cosmopolos, Arnold & Co. and Ingalls Associates.

Based in Hicksville, Long Island, AGB Television Research, Inc. is an American subsidiary of AGB Research PLC, Europe's largest market research company, which developed the "PeopleMeter".

revue at those nightclubs, dancing and singing songs "from everything," Shorey says. "It was kind of exciting — we were performing in the same place, the same rooms, in the same week as people like (singers) Tom Jones and Sheena Easton."

Still, Shorey most enjoyed the classes she took, like the acting class required of all campers, and the chance to make new friends "from all over — Pennsylvania, California, Montreal."

Despite the competition for juicy parts, Shorey says, "The people are very friendly, it's all big hugs and arms open and 'Come on in.'" (Stagedoor holds a reunion dinner in New York City every January, and Shorey wouldn't dream of missing it.)

Mrs. Walker proudly points out that Shorey paid her own way to Stagedoor last summer, and for half her stay there this summer, with money she earned by appearing in a local television commercial for Purity Supreme markets. (Shot in Boston in the spring of 1983, that spot hasn't been broadcast recently, Shorey says.)

Shorey's mother believes that "it's never going to do her any harm to learn the kind of skills she's learning — she's got a great deal of poise, self-control and composure. All these skills will stand her in good stead no matter what she ends up doing in life."

Shorey would like to go to college, and then "I'd love to become an actress, singing and dancing, on Broadway or on TV," she says. "I enjoy what it does to you, the thanks you get. It's a great feeling — it's just something I enjoy doing thoroughly."

Windrush In Need Of Volunteers

Fall has come upon us all too soon and school and winter activities begin again and so does Windrush with its riding therapy for physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped students.

This year the numbers and variety of handicapped students are many and the need for volunteers is imperative.

Volunteers not only get great satisfaction from helping a student grow and develop in skill, confidence and happiness, but would also get free aerobics.

If interested, come to an introduction and training session on Thursday, Sept. 13, at 9:30 a.m. or contact Marjorie V. Kittredge, Windrush Farm, Boxford, MA 01921.

Elected

Dennis Patrick Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sheehan, 4 Crestwood Drive, Andover, has been elected 1st vice president of Scott Hall at Bridgewater State College.

A management science major at Bridgewater, Sheehan has been involved in college activities since 1980. He has served as chairperson of the Student Union Board of Governors, chairperson of the Student Union Program Committee and chairperson of the educational services and media subcommittees.

An Open Letter to the Voters of Andover

Only One Candidate for Congress in the 5th Congressional District (the seat being vacated by Jim Shannon) is endorsed by the FREEZE VOTER '84 CAUCUS.

WHY? Because this candidate is a longstanding backer of serious arms control and a mutually verifiable freeze.

Only One Candidate for Congress in the 5th Congressional District is endorsed by the ANDOVER CITIZENS FOR A NUCLEAR FREEZE.

WHY? Because this candidate worked with the Andover Citizens for a Nuclear Freeze and wrote the MASS. NUCLEAR FREEZE REFERENDUM question that was endorsed by 75% of Andover.

Only One Candidate For Congress in the 5th Congressional District has an outstanding record of fiscal responsibility as chairman of the ways and means committee of the MASS. STATE SENATE.

We can expect this candidate to ride herd on wasteful and inflationary Federal spending!

Only One Candidate for Congress in the 5th Congressional District can be counted on for knowledgeable, active support of a mutually verifiable freeze on nuclear weapons.

He Will:

- Be responsible to the feelings of voters in the 5th Congressional District;
- Be receptive to creative solutions to the problems of nuclear weapons;
- Look to local and national leaders of the freeze movement for new and responsible ideas;
- Listen to voters concerned with effective arms control;
- Speak out knowinly in Congress in the search for practical solutions to the real danger of nuclear obliteration.

THAT CANDIDATE IS CHET ATKINS.

Please NOMINATE CHET ATKINS in Andover's SEPTEMBER 18th PRIMARY.

Sincerely,
The Andover Citizens for a
Nuclear Weapon Freeze

Applications Down For Assistant's Post

School officials are looking to a second group of assistant superintendent hopefuls for someone to oversee secondary education in Andover's public school system.

This past Saturday was the last day applications were accepted for the position, which carries a salary of from $42,000 to $45,000. The first search to fill the job yielded only one candidate for a final interview when the job was initially posted in May. A screening committee sifted through 57 applications before drawing up the list with only one name. This time 46 people have applied for the job.

A new position, the assistant superintendent for junior high and high school education was created when Charles Mitsakos left his job as assistant superintendent this past December. At that time he was temporarily replaced by two school principals who held the positions in acting capacities until school ended in June. Richard McGrail, principal at Doherty Junior High School, filled in as acting assistant for secondary education. He told THE TOWNSMAN this week that he did not apply for the assistant superintendent's job.

The other half of the position was filled by Lois Haslam, tapped from her post as principal at Bancroft Elementary School. Haslam was permanently appointed to the assistant elementary position in early July when both jobs were initially advertised.

Superintendent of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert said the secondary position was readvertised when only one finalist survived a screening process. He told the School Committee, in June, that one finalist did not offer enough choice and asked the committee to re-post the job.

The new crop of candidates, who come from as far away as Florida, North Carolina and California, will be interviewed by a screening committee of nine or ten administrators, parents and teachers from the public school system, Seifert said. That committee has not yet been selected, he added.

Seifert is hoping to fill the position by the second week in October, at the very latest, he stressed.

Seifert pointed out that many of those applying for the assistant superintendent position are school principals who are now earning what the Andover job would pay them. He said the salary matter may warrant discussion by the school committee.

The next scheduled school committee meeting is Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m., in the second floor conference room of the school administration wing, in the new town hall.

Madrigals To Attend Session

The Andover High School Madrigals will attend a workshop and training session at Grotonwood Center in Groton on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8 and 9. During the two days, they will receive special coaching in choral tone development, choreography, and repertoire, by trained professionals.

According to Keith Gould, choral director, these annual workshops prove successful in preparing the Madrigals for a busy year of performance.

Art In Park Set

This year's Andover Art in the Park will be held Saturday, Sept. 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Central Park in Andover. The tenth annual exhibit and sale is sponsored by the Andovers Artists Guild and the Andover Department of Community Services.

Raindate is Sunday, Sept. 16, at Doherty Junior High School, adjacent to the park. Food concessions, free parking and restrooms will be provided on the show grounds, located off Main Street at Chestnut and Bartlett Streets.

"These are the five best reasons I have for supporting the nuclear freeze."

PHIL SHEA

"The equation is simple. Fear builds more fear. New weapons beget newer weapons. A nuclear confrontation, or a nuclear accident, looms larger.

We are strong enough to be bold. Now is the time for us to take the initiative. But instead of negotiations, this administration embarks on a program of destabilizing first strike weapons — the MX missile and the Trident D-5 missile. That is madness.

Each round of new weapons makes us less safe and makes the deficit worse. Common sense tells us that we must have a mutual and verifiable nuclear freeze — now.

We have everything to gain from a freeze. Security. Peace of mind. Savings — up to $20 billion a year.

Good people like Ted Kennedy, Walter Mondale, Gary Hart, Geraldine Ferraro, Barney Frank and Phil Shea believe in the nuclear freeze AND a reasonable national defense.

In Congress, Phil Shea will support more emphasis for spare parts, maintenance and training. Greater reliance on stable, manned weapons systems such as nuclear submarines. Strengthened conventional forces. Most of all, Phil Shea will fight for a procurement program that won't pay hundreds of dollars for a 50¢ wrench.

Our next Congressman will have to deal with the world as it is. Only then can we build the world we want.

Democratic Primary Tuesday, September 18.

Phil Shea

you build it."

Subscription Series Offered

Andover Community Theatre announces a Subscription Series for the 1984-1985 season. The series offers a ticket to six productions (four adult shows and two special children's productions). In addition, choice seating will be reserved at each performance for subscription holders.

The plays to be presented:

THE MOUSETRAP, Agatha Christie. Oct. 19, 20, 21, 26, 27. The longest running play in theatrical history! This is a classic who-done-it that contains all the plush settings, fascinating characters, plot twists and unexpected turns of events that have become Christie trademarks.

THE BOYFRIEND, Nov. 16, 17, 18. An irrepressible musical romp set in the Roaring '20s. This production will be put on by the junior high school age members of A.C.T. It should prove to be a crowd pleaser for all ages.

NEVER TOO LATE, Feb. 8, 9, 10, 15, 16. A light-hearted comedy centered around a middle-aged couple's "developing" predicament. This play takes a warm, humorous look at a very contemporary issue.

CINDERELLA, March 29, 30, 31. The most oft-told and beloved of fairy tales. This enchanting story will be performed entirely by A.C.T.'s youngsters (ages 6-12). These shows are always enormously popular.

SEESAW, Michael Bennett. April 26, 27, 28, May 3, 4. A breezy, brassy musical and an intimate, bittersweet comedy all rolled into one. This early Bennett show contains the same creative energy and brilliance apparent in his later Broadway hits, CHORUS LINE and DREAMGIRLS.

GERSHWIN, Aug. 2, 3, 8, 9, 10. An original revue based on the music of one of American's foremost composers. A.C.T. is proud to present a show created by two of its own members, E.R. Boutin and Tom Kirkman. Treat yourself to a literate, elegant, sophistiand develop the land.

Hadassah offers its members study groups, educational and social programs and American and Zionist affairs updates.

Anyone interested in attending this annual event may make a reservation or receive further information by calling Natalie (Mrs. Donald) Sherman or Evelyn (Mrs. Paul) Chedekal, both of Andover.

The great composer, Richard Wagner, critics say, was never able to play any instrument well.

New Plates

Disabled veterans will exchange their "V" series registration plates for a bold new plate designed to remind everyone of the disabled veteran's handicapped parking privileges.

The red, white and blue plate, bordered with stars and stripes and bearing the legend "Disabled Veteran" will be exchanged for "V" plates between now and December 1. Until then, both series will be recognized. After December 1 only disabled veterans with the new plate can legally use a handicapped space.

To qualify for a disabled veteran plate, the veteran must have lost a limb or the use of that limb, his eyesight or become paralyzed during military service.

Kitchen Design

Not too long ago, all kitchens looked pretty much alike but one gave much thought to kitchen decor, because the room was conceived of in purely utilitarian terms. This is not true now when the kitchen is in the process of being reintegrated with the rest of the house. What is wanted today is a kitchen that reflects the overall style of the house and its furnishings. Actually, the decor of a kitchen has hardly anything to do with the floor plan or the location of appliances. It is expressed instead by the styling of the cabinetry doors and hardware and by the design and color of the countertops, the floor and wall coverings, and by decorative paintings, scrolls of both traditional and contemporary design.

Renovating your kitchen is no minor investment, but it is an investment that will bring long lasting beauty and utility. Whether you remodel several rooms or just your kitchen, you want to deal with professionals who will give you the results you desire along with top notch craftsmanship. Come to WINDSOR KITCHENS at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill, and you'll get the finest cabinets for your kitchen. We feature custom wood, laminated, European as well as traditional stock lines. You'll get the "kitchen mood" when you visit our beautiful show room. Mon-Thurs. 9-5:30, Fri-Sat 10-6, Sun 12-5.

HANDY HINT:

To save money, consider doing other remodeling at the time of kitchen make-over.

Tucker Announces Grants

Four Merrimack Valley cultural-arts groups, whose projects range from staging major local concerts to preserving historic textiles and documents, have been awarded a combined total of $75,900 in state funds, State Representative Sue Tucker has announced.

The Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities approved the funds for use during the 1985 fiscal year which began July 1, Tucker said.

Andover's Northeast Document Conservation Center, on School Street, received $52,000. The nationally acclaimed preservation institute restores historically valuable books, documents, photographs, drawings and other items.

The center found itself the focus of national attention recently when it was asked to restore Italian and American paper money found water-logged in the safe of the sunken ocean liner, Andrea Doria.

The Immigrant City Archives, Parker Street, Lawrence, received $7,500. The institute will use $4,000 of their award to publish a series of booklets for use on walking tours of historical sections of Lawrence. Students from Lawrence High School will write the text and sketch the drawings of various historical sites for the booklets.

The remaining $3,500 will be used to help continue its ongoing projects designed to preserve the ethnic and cultural history of Lawrence. The institute maintains an extensive collection of photos of various buildings, streets and other sites in Lawrence. It also collects oral histories of the city, preserves important historical documents and letters and produces slide-lecture programs for the public.

The Lawrence Choral Arts Society, which is based in Methuen but performs concerts in Lawrence and throughout the Merrimack Valley, received $4,000 in state funds, Tucker said. Much of the award will be used to stage a major Christmas concert at St. Anne's Church in Lawrence on December 15.

In addition to the 50 volunteer singers, the concert will feature a 35-piece orchestra and several paid professional musicians from Boston.

The society will stage several other, smaller Christmas concerts in the area as well as concerts at other times during the year.

The Museum of American Textile History (formerly the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum) on Massachusetts Avenue in North Andover, received $12,400 in state funds, Tucker said. the museum will use the grant to conduct on-site surveys of the textile collections of local historical societies across the state.

The one-day surveys are designed to provide the local societies with expert advice on how to preserve and protect the various types of textiles in their respective collections. Surveys include advice on heat and humidity control in collection storage areas, security systems, fire and smoke protection systems and cataloging collections.

Museum staff members provided such assistance to 20 local historical societies in Massachusetts in 1983. The museum conducts workshops throughout the year to provide the staffs of the local societies with further training and information concerning the care of textile collections.

Regis Club To Meet

Members of the Regis College Club of Greater Lawrence will meet for their fall dinner meeting on Monday, Sept. 10, at 6 p.m., at the Roma Restaurant, Middlesex Street, Haverhill.

They will hear Regis graduate Jackie Lewis, who is visiting the area from Saudi Arabia, speak on life in the Middle East. For information on tickets to the dinner call Barbara McLarny, Andover; Maureen Kelley, North Andover; Beth Rocket, Methuen; or Joanne Byrnes, of Salem, N.H.

and high-growth industries will be discussed. The schedule of topics and books to be read will be determined at the first meeting. For more information, call Dorothy Sierrerd, community services librarian.

Morning Book Discussion Group

The Morning Book Discussion Group will initiate its fall schedule Monday, Sept. 17, at 10 a.m. by discussing "Isak Dinesen: Life of a Storyteller" by Judith Thurman.

Several copies of the book are available for borrowing at the circulation desk and paperback copies are available at local bookstores. The group meets once a month on Monday mornings at the library and welcomes newcomers at any time. The reading schedule for the year will be discussed at this meeting.

Artist Of The Month

The oil paintings of Mark Hayden of Bradford are on display at Memorial Hall Library. A graduate of Haverhill High School, Hayden received fundamental art training at the Montserrat School of Visual Art, Beverly. Currently working out of his home studio, he conducts classes and pursues the fine techniques of painting in the manner of the old masters. His work will also be on exhibit at Andover's Art in the Park.

Newcomers Extend Welcome

Marcia Brown, president of the Andover-North Andover Newcomers Club, has announced that the club will hold its annual "welcome coffee" at the North Andover Middle School, Route 125 and Main Street, North Andover, on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 7:30 p.m. Current members as well as prospective members are invited to attend. Members will have the opportunity to sign up for membership and activities planned for the coming year. Activity chairpersons will be on hand to explain and answer questions regarding the various daytime, evening and couples activities.

Activities that members may sign up for have been announced by Jane Guild, activities coordinator and Sue Thomas, assistant activities coordinator, and are as follows: arts and crafts, evening book discussion, couples bridge, couples duplicate bridge, ladies bridge, round robin bridge, ceramics, needlework, quilting, recipe luncheons, Ukrainian egg painting, dinner group, bowling, dancercize, golf league, skiing, ladies tennis, men's tennis and racquetball.

Jan Boni, first vice-president, has announced that the October meeting will feature a tour of Phillips Academy with a luncheon at the Andover Inn. Future luncheon meetings will feature programs on drug education and community awareness, floral arrangement and brass rubbing, birth order effect on behavior, a fashion show and a presentation and lecture on Oriental rugs.

Jill Redd, "Fun-in-the-Hub" chairperson, has presented the following monthly trips for club members: Strawberry Banke, Portsmouth, N.H.; Vanity Fair, Fall River Factory Outlets; Christmas Antique and Crafts Show at the Hynes Auditorium, Boston; a day in Newburyport and Heritage

Plantation in Sandwich on the "Cape."

Couples activities planned for the coming year will be a progressive dinner, pot luck supper and scavenger hunt, Christmas cheer cocktail party, theatre night, brunch at the Lanam Club, car rally, Evening at the Pops and a whale watch.

Manager

David P. Sirois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sirois of Andover, has been named a manager of the audit department of the Boston office of Alexander Grant & Company.

He will be responsible for coordinating the audit, tax and consulting services for clients in gas utility, computer service and manufacturing industries. He was formerly an audit department supervisor.

Sirois is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

He received a B.S. from Babson College and recently became a member of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

Newcomers is open to all new residents of the Andovers and helps them to meet their neighbors, make friends and discover activities, services and opportunities available in their new surroundings. Anyone interested in the group may contact membership chairman Katy Vehlow, 8 Island Way, Andover; or Kathy Savage, 66 Bonny Lane, North Andover.

She Gives Life to L.I.F.E.

By Susan Rand

With equal doses of enthusiasm and the jitters Katherine H. Prescott met with a group of elder citizens at the Academy Manor Nursing Home last Friday to tell the resident, all of whom were older than she, about life.

Actually it wasn't just plain old "life" Prescott talked about. She told the residents how she hoped to help them work to improve the quality of life for them and their peers with some help from a program called L.I.F.E., which is short for Living is for the Elderly. The new Lanam chapter of L.I.F.E. got its start at Academy Manor last week and Prescott will be bringing L.I.F.E. to the dozen or so nursing homes in the greater Lawrence area in the months to come.

Prescott explained in an interview with THE TOWNSMAN that the newest chapter of L.I.F.E. is called the Lanam because the group includes Lawrence, the L; Andover, the A; North Andover, the N and the A; and Methuen, the M. It is one of ten L.I.F.E. chapters in the area, she said.

As she told the Academy Manor residents last week L.I.F.E. is dedicated to improving the quality of life for them. Prescott got the job with the group only three weeks ago and is still learning much about how L.I.F.E. can work for the elderly. Past accomplishments of the group include lobbying to make a locked drawer for every resident in a nursing home standard issue. A plea from residents to help protect private or valuable items such as jewelry, letters or photographs was the impetus for the locked drawer legislation.

L.I.F.E. has also forced nursing homes to install telephones in private, quiet places so residents may make calls in private. In some residences, the only telephones available were in busy halls where residents were always moving about or floors were noisily being cleaned. Each nursing home resident who receives Medicare can now thank L.I.F.E. for lobbying to successfully raise their monthly personal care allowance $5. It seems a small triumph, but to people who live on $40 a month, $45 makes a big difference.

While L.I.F.E. spends a lot of time working with legislatures it is also a social group, explained Prescott. And L.I.F.E. will work to keep the elders informed about community happenings as well as the state and national legislation they are advocating.

"It is important to break down the walls that are isolating the elderly residents from their communities," said Prescott.

The Lanam chapter of L.I.F.E. is

Babysitting Course Offered

The Department of Community Services, in conjunction with the Andover Society, will offer the annual babysitting course for students in the seventh and eighth grades beginning the week of Oct. 2, at Doherty Junior High, West Junior High, and the Andover Y.M.C.A. Registrations are being taken at the Y.M.C.A. and on Wednesday, Sept. 12, at West Junior High, 7 to 8 p.m.

The first session will feature a film on babysitting and a talk with a member of the Andover Police Department. The second session will focus on a visit from a local pediatrician and a nurse. The American Red Cross will provide an informative class on practical experience dealing with child emergencies.

The fourth class will have a noted child specialist instruct the class on basic child care. The fifth session will be devoted to interaction with children of various ages. The final session will have an exam, with certificates and a party to follow. To qualify for a babysitting certificate upon completion of the exam, students will be required to pass the exam and miss no more than one class.

Eleanor Clark and Susan Bomba will teach the course at the Andover Y.M.C.A. Tuesday afternoons; Janet Bloom and Jean Lumley will teach Wednesdays at West Junior High; and Elaine Pothier and Janice Capeless will teach the Thursday course at Doherty Junior High.

Secretaries Association to Meet

The Greater Lawrence Legal Secretaries Association has scheduled a membership meeting for Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 7 p.m., at the conference room, eighth floor, room 826, of the Bay State Building, 11 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

Anyone wishing to join is welcome to attend. Applications for membership will be available. Wine and cheese will be served at the meeting. For more information contact Deborah Anthony, or Linda Swindlehurst, membership chairman.

Ski, Skate Sale Aids AFS

Sporting goods of all kinds and sports clothing and outerwear will be taken on consignment on Wednesday, Sept. 19, and Thursday, Sept. 20, for the annual Ski, Skate and Sporting Goods Sale to benefit the scholarship fund of the American Field Service.

The sale will run Thursday evening, Sept. 20, through Saturday morning, Sept. 22, in the Pike School gymnasium and will be staffed by volunteers from AFS.

Ray Charles Opens Season

The J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts announced a season of fifteen shows which organizers say rivals any performance center in the country. Topping this fall's schedule is Ray Charles, the Raelettes and the Ray Charles Orchestra. In all, fifteen events are planned for the center's second season.

Last year the Collins Center, under the direction of John Shuman and Glen Gulezian, presented a potpourri of music, theater and dance. Overall, attendance was 80% and many of the shows were sold out and had waiting lists for tickets.

Charles opens the season on Sunday, Sept. 23, with performances, at 4 and 7 p.m. Following the opening will be the popular Fats Waller musical "Ain't Misbehavin'," set for Tuesday,

Gardeners To Begin Season

The Spade and Trowel Garden Club will get their fall season started with a "Wine and Roses" Dinner at the home of Belva Hopkins. The 6:30 dinner on Tuesday, Sept. 11, will include a recipe swap. The co-hostesses are Florence Andersen, Victoria Anderson, and Rhoda LeFrois. The flower arranger will be Holly Plamondon.

Support Network

JoAnne Weldon, director of health education for the American Lung Association of Essex County, announced the formation of a Support Network for parents of children with asthma. The Support Network will provide parents with the opportunity to learn more about asthma while helping their children cope with asthma.

The first meeting of the Parent Support Network will be held Wednesday, Sept. 12, at 7 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library, Andover. For further information call JoAnne Weldon.

The Support Network is free of charge and funded in part through Christmas Seal donations.

Oct. 16, at 8 p.m.; les Ballets Jazz de Montreal, on Friday, Oct. 19; the Berkshire troupe of Shakespeare and Company will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream," on Saturday, Nov. 3. Tom Rush will appear with David Bushkin and Robin Batteau on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The all male company of Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo will perform Sunday, Feb. 3. On Sunday, May 5, the country's sixth oldest opera company, the Connecticut Opera, will present a full-scale production of "The Barber of Seville," in English.

To attract season ticket buyers Gulezian and Shuman have designed three ticket packages, each of which includes discounts off the regular ticket prices. At the top of the list the "diamond series" includes all 15 shows at a savings of 20% on box office ticket prices. The "emerald series" offers eight events at a savings of 15% and the "classical ruby series" will treat the patron to Paul Neubauer on viola, Peter Serkin and the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, James Barbagallo on piano, the Boston Chamber Music Society and the Portland String Quartet.

Included in the fifteen-event series is the National Touring Company's production of "Oliver!" and the Negro Ensemble Company's Pulitzer Prize production of "A Soldier's Play." In addition, A Night of Country Music will feature Bill Hall and the Northwind Bluegrass and the Doug Dillard Band.

For information about the new season call the Collins Center office or write to P.O. Box 3039, Shawsheen Station, Andover, MA, 01810. Performances at the new center, located at Andover High School, are sponsored by the Andover Endowment for the Arts, Inc.

Flea Mart

Space reservations are being accepted for Bradford College's Ninth Annual Country Flea Market to be held Saturday, Sept. 8, on the front campus.

Clubs, organizations and individuals wishing to sell used furniture, records, plans, clothing, food, jewelry and other craft items can obtain information on the entry fee and other details by calling the public relations office.

In the event of rain, the flea market will be held Sunday, Sept. 9.

Hospital Seeking Volunteers

Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen, is accepting applications from adults age 18 and over for openings in its senior volunteer program. To obtain an application, contact Cathryn Barker, director of volunteer services.

According to Barker, volunteers are assigned to specific hospital areas according to their preferences.

Volunteer orientation will be held in September. For more information, contact Barker between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

The fall Sunday schedule will resume this Sunday at the Ballardvale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ) with a family Service of the Word at 10:30 a.m. in the church sanctuary. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell will have as his preaching theme, "What Sins Have You Committed Since We Last Met", based on the 18th chapter of the Gospel according to Matthew.

There will be a class for pre-school aged children, a special film for elementary aged children, and a nursery for infants and toddlers.

JOIN US FOR THE BEGINNING OF A NEW CHURCH YEAR

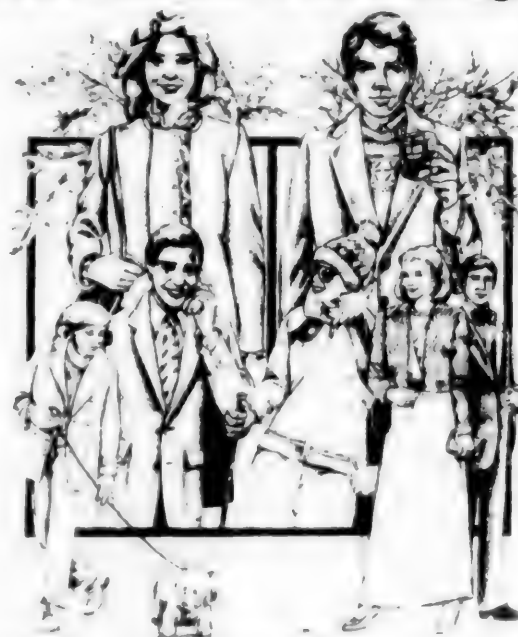

Unitarian Universalist
Church Of Andover

The religion we practice in this church is centered in the here and now, rather than in the hereafter. It is more a "thinking" kind of religion than a "believing" kind. It is governed more by reason than tradition, more concerned with the present than the past. It is concerned with living wisely, compassionately and well.

A major aim for us is continually expanding our understanding of ourselves, others and the world. This church is a community of people who share in the free and open search for a level of understanding that enables them to be more fully and effectively alive. The church does not tell us what we must believe, rather it stimulates us to think and supports us in the disciplined search for our own religious belief.

Free Church Sunday School Begins

September is back-to-school time for church schools too. The Free Christian Church invites families to their "Welcome Back Day," on Sunday, Sept. 9, the kick-off for this year's Christian education program.

Registration for classes will take place in the classrooms and lower parish hall at the church between 9:30 and 10 a.m., when families will gather in the hall for welcoming remarks and introductions by the staff and Christian education team.

Classes are offered for all ages, from nursery (three and four years old), through adult, including a youth class for junior and senior high school students. Classes meet from 9:30 to 10:15 a.m., on Sunday mornings before the regular worship service. Crib room care is provided for infants through two-year-olds during class time. During the 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. worship hour nursery and kindergarten youngsters may participate in a supervised playtime. First through fourth graders are invited to an activity hour and children fifth grade and older may attend worship with their families. Crib room care is also provided during the service.

The curriculum used in Sunday school classes from nursery through sixth grade is David C. Cook's Bible-in-Life series, one that church teachers believe is effective in helping students apply Biblical truths to real-life situations. The youth class will undertake bible study of a book of the bible as well as using Lyman Coleman's Serendipity materials to deepen their understanding of scripture.

Teaching Sunday school this year will be Debra Conlon and Janice Haselton in the nursery; Gail Parrish in kindergarten; Toni Kulcsar, first and second grade; Kyung Ho Sohn, third and fourth grade; Kathy Daniel and Diane Hall, fifth and sixth grade. Sharon Thompson will teach the youth class and Douglas Parrish will lead the adult class. Call the church for more information about the church programs.

Registration At Temple

Temple Emanuel, Haggetts Pond Road in Andover, will be meeting for the first Religious School classes on Sunday, Sept. 9. Due to the increased enrollment at the Religious School during the past years, double sessions will be instituted beginning this year.

Classes from Kindergarten through seventh grade will meet each and every Sunday morning for both early and later sessions.

Students of the eighth, ninth and tenth grades will meet on Monday evenings throughout the school year.

Attendance in eighth and ninth grade is required in order to be enrolled in the tenth grade Confirmation Class study program.

The school is available to families who are not members of Temple Emanuel. Information regarding enrollment at the Temple Emanuel Religious School may be obtained by coming to the school office in the Temple building on Haggetts Pond Road or by calling either the school principal, Mrs. Shelley Thompson, or the school secretary, Mrs. Lesley Natusky.

Rally Day Begins Year

Sept. 9 will be a special day at South Church, 41 Central St., as a new church school year begins. Starting at 9:15 that morning, a Rally Day celebration will open with an all-church gathering in the sanctuary, which will include singing, worship and a special presentation by the Junior PF Puppets. This group of talented and enthusiastic junior highs have been using the medium of puppetry to communicate spiritual truths. Their main presentation on Rally Day will be "Bennie the Bike Breaker," a fun story about the importance of attending Sunday School.

After the morning worship service, which begins at 10:30, everyone is invited to a simple picnic lunch on the lawn to join in the fellowship with the South Church family.

The educational program at South Church promises to be stimulating and exciting, using The Good News Curriculum, published by Augsburg Press. Childcare is provided for infants, with classes available for toddlers up through adults. Four adult classes will be offered: "In Word Bound," led by Dr. Larsen, is centered primarily in the New Testament on themes and doctrines which are the building blocks of our faith; "Seekers," led by Mrs. Thomas Jehl, will learn to study one of the Gospels and seek out the truth of Jesus Christ; "Issues in the U.C.C.," led by Mrs. Bart Schick, will come to grips with the major stances this denomination has taken; "Medicine and the Bible," led by Dr. Don Ramberg, will focus on what the Bible says about disease and the physicians' and patients' role in illness.

Everyone is cordially invited to join with others of all ages to seek to learn about Jesus Christ and the life of following Him. Further information about the Christian Education program at South Church can be obtained by calling the church office.

Church School Year Begins

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover will begin its church school year this Sunday, Sept. 9, with registration and a materials display as part of the "Homecoming Sunday" worship service.

Pre-school children will be exploring their feelings through "Growing Times" which gives each child the experience of growing in knowledge, spirituality and a first sense of what it means to be a Unitarian-Universalist.

Getting to know one's own personality and nurturing an at homeness with one's religious beliefs will be the year's journey for children in kindergarten and first and second grades.

A new and innovative curriculum entitled "Holidays and Holy Days" will be the focus for grades three through six. This curriculum is designed to help older children become fully aware of Unitarian-Universalist tradition. The vehicle for this exploration is called "Change the World."

Teachers for the 1984-85 school year are Karen Pearson, John and Marie Demember, Larry and Tina LaFranchi, Patsy Siller, Alexa Jarret, John Haberle, Colvin and Mary Henderson, Betsy Black, Gail Ens Dorf, Chris and Kathy Haskell, Jayne Hamm, Tom Smurzynski, Joe and Debbie Zahka, Liz Roman, Audrey Bedell, Joyce Stier, Carol Larson and Ed and Marian Perregaux.

Information about the church school program may be obtained by calling Cynthia Genier, co-coordinator of religious education.

School Officials Meet To Appoint Principal

By Susan Rand

The Andover School Committee interviewed four finalists in the running for the principal's job at the Bancroft Elementary School after THE TOWNSMAN went to press yesterday.

Set for 5 p.m., the meeting featured interviews with the four candidates culled from a field of 49 persons who initially applied for the $33,000 to $38,000 job. One local woman is among those who was interviewed. Iora Alexander, who filled in as acting assistant principal at the West Elementary School last year, is an instructional specialist at the Bancroft this year.

Also interviewed for the Bancroft position were Suzanne McGhee, from Skowhegan, Maine, an elementary school principal in two schools housing students in kindergarten through grade four. Margaret Griffin, an elementary school principal from Swayze, New Hampshire; and Marc Ladin a Colchester, Conn., resident who is an assistant principal at an elementary school there were also interviewed.

Filling in at the school until a principal is appointed is Bancroft third grade teacher Delores Pelc, who did not apply for the job. She was appointed acting principal last week.

Each of the finalists was also interviewed by Superintendent of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert, who sat in on the interviews last night. Seifert was supposed to make his recommendation to the committee for his choice for the Bancroft job after the interviews were completed.

When she talked to THE TOWNSMAN, Lois Haslam wasn't sure if she would also attend last night's session. Haslam had the Bancroft post before she was appointed assistant superintendent for elementary education in June. She said she hopes the post is filled and the new principal starts at the Bancroft Road school as soon as possible.

Alexander, McGhee, Griffin and Ladin were chosen for the final interviews by a screening committee composed of parents Barbara Brown and Laura Butt; school principals Joseph Normandy, of South Elementary School and John E. Coyle, from West Elementary; instructional specialists

Jane Markiewicz from South and Nancy Smith from the Sanborn Elementary School; Bancroft teachers Bonnie Guerin and Barbara Raulston; fine arts program advisor Diana Kolben and reading program advisor Dorothy Sipsy and Janis Baron, the gifted and talented coordinator.

AHS Choral Parents Meeting

The Andover High School Choral Parents Association will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, Sept. 12, at the High School Choral Room at 7:30 p.m. It is expected that all parents of students in the Madrigals, Acapella, or Hand Bell Choirs will attend. At the meeting, the calendar of events and performances will be presented, as well as an explanation of uniform contracts and fees.

The Choral Parents Association is the main support group of the High School choirs, and assists in planning activities, fund-raising, and providing scholarships. The choral groups have had a chance to expand the opportunities provided for them, due to the support of the Choral Parents Association in the past.

Planners Deny Subdivision, Cite Problems With Wet Lots

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Concerned by wet and oddly-shaped lots, the Planning Board last week denied revised preliminary plans for Hawk Ridge, an eight-lot subdivision proposed for a 14.5-acre site off Rattlesnake Hill Road.

The planners last Tuesday night voted unanimously (with Russ Moran absent) to disapprove the preliminary plans drawn by Merrimack Engineering Services of Andover for the Coolidge Construction Co.

Engineer Stephen Stapinski said the conventional (not clustered) subdivision would be built off the south side of Rattlesnake Hill Road, which is located off South Main Street (Route 28).

During an hour-long discussion, several abutters told the board they were most concerned about the drainage problems they feared Hawk Ridge might cause for them — but that was not the reason for the board's negative vote.

Instead, the planners said they had questions about four of the site's eight lots: lots one, six, seven and eight. Board members indicated that they were not convinced that lots six and seven met their 90 percent rule: the requirement that 90 percent of each lot must be dry land — not wetlands.

And they were not pleased with the configuration of lots one and eight. Lot one was an awkward "pork chop" shape that needed to be redesigned, Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said, while lot eight included two dry areas separated by wetlands.

The owner of that lot would need "a helicopter or a boat," the chairman said, to cross the wet area: "I find the concept of lot eight a totally inappropriate building site."

Neighbors who attended last week's meeting, as well as a public hearing held earlier last month, said Hawk Ridge would probably exacerbate existing drainage problems in their area, including Rattlesnake Hill Road and Glenwood Road.

According to Stapinski, drainage from the eight new houses would run into the existing wetlands, and then into nearby Foster's Pond. He disagreed with abutters' fears that the subdivision would cause the drainage to "pond", or back up onto neighbors' property.

Bradshaw noted that "the biggest concern we have seems to be drainage." However, staff planner Nancy Jeton noted that the board could not base its decision on the drainage issue last week, because the board had not requested precise drainage calculations in the preliminary planning stage.

The preliminary plan is meant to be "a concept plan," Jeton said, and to vote on the basis of drainage concerns at the preliminary stage would not be "appropriate."

Besides their questions on the way lots were designed and whether there was enough dry land included in each lot, the planners were also concerned about the possible pollution of Foster's Pond. Planner Paul Curley said runoff from the subdivision might pour pollutants (lawn fertilizer, for example) into the pond.

Planner Michael Houghton added that he was concerned about the developer's plan to remove 8,500 cubic yards of earth material around the site to create the lots and roadway. (Stapinski said none of that material would be taken off-site). That much earth moving to build eight lots "seems excessive," Houghton said.

Plans for Hawk Ridge called for one 1,000-foot roadway ending in a cul-de-sac, and eight house lots served by septic systems and town water. Stapinski said the developer would leave "as many trees as possible" standing on the site, and that no blasting would be required.

Library Contract To Be Awarded By Oct. 1

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The contract for the $5.2 million Memorial Hall Library renovation project may be awarded by Oct. 1, the town manager said this week — but not until the second-lowest bidder has contested the low bidder's claim on the project.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony yesterday told the TOWNSMAN that he met with town attorneys and bank officials last Friday to discuss the financial arrangements for the plan.

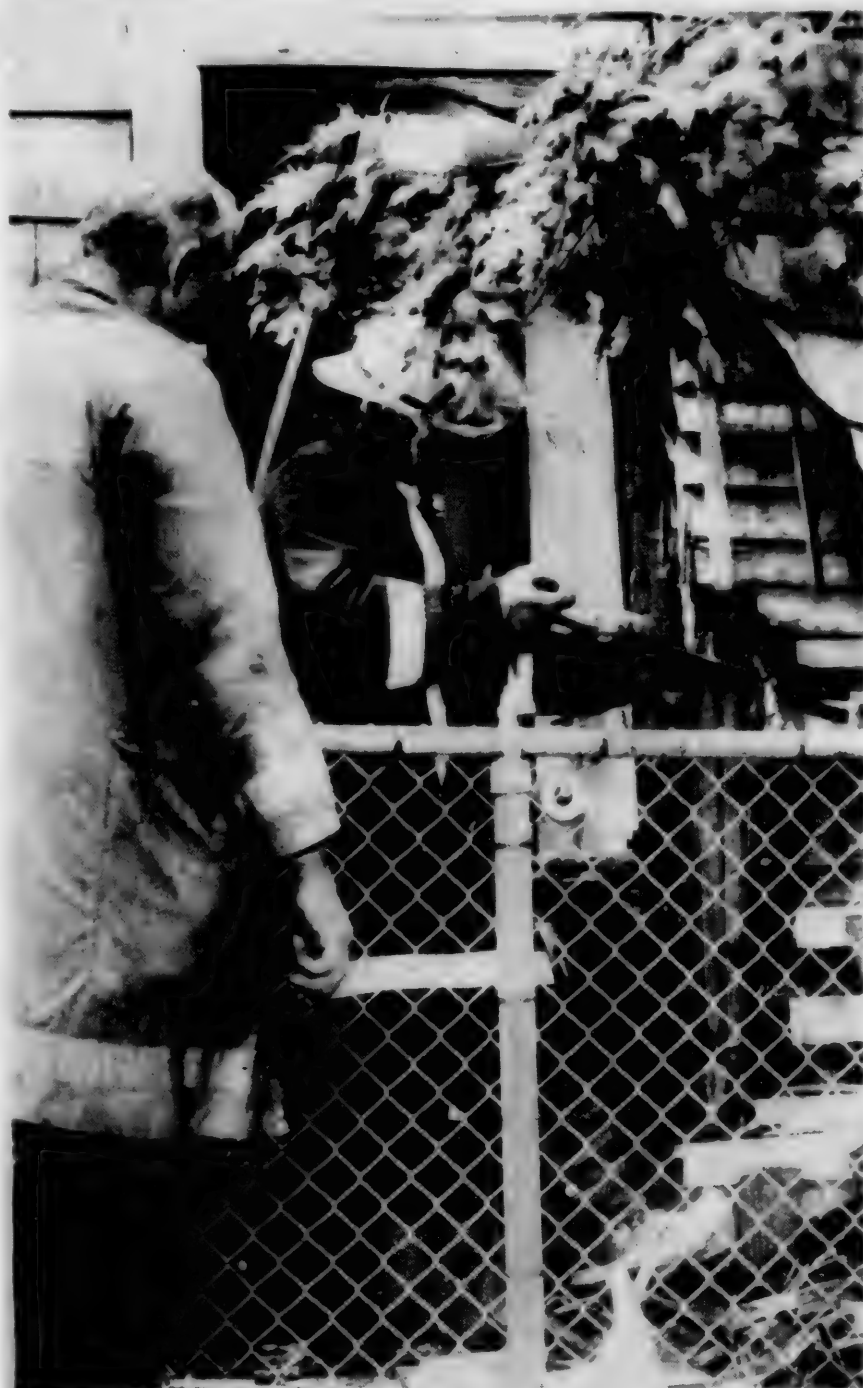

The manager hopes to sell the library to a bank-owned trust for $1 — and repurchase the renovated library for the same price 15 years from now — to finance the project.

Mahony said he has set an Oct. 1 target date for finalizing his financing plans and awarding the bid.

When bids on the project to renovate the existing library and build a new addition were opened last month, Trust Construction Co. of Chelmsford emerged as the low bidder at $3.69 million. However, according to the

Academy House Fire

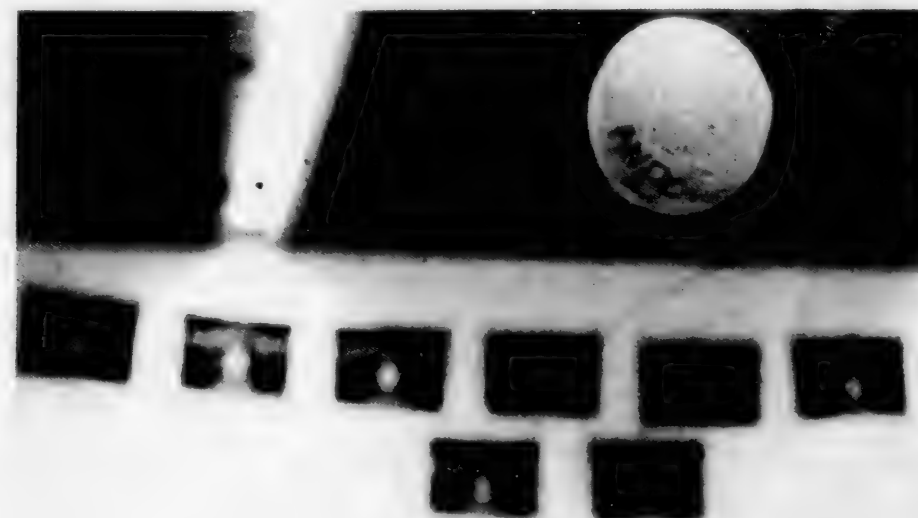

Ten Andover firefighters battled what they called a "moderate" fire in a wood frame house owned by Phillips Academy, at 60 Morton St., on Tuesday morning. The call came in at 10:37 a.m., that a plumber had set off the fire, contained in the outside walls of the building, with his torch. In photo above, firefighter Larry Pierce chips away at a damaged wall while Deputy Robert Boush looks on. The building was unoccupied at the time of the fire, which raced from the basement, where the plumber was working, to the first floor and attic, said Boush.

Pre-Season Practice

Back to school in the fall also means getting ready for the Fall sporting events. Andover High School Athletes begin their pre-season practice two weeks before school starts. The Fall season includes; Football, Volleyball, Boys and Girls Soccer, Swimming, Boys and Girls Cross-country and Field Hockey. Also providing school spirit is the A.H.S. Marching Band and cheerleaders for Football and Soccer. Senator McGovern listened when people asked, "Who cares about our rights?"

Because Senator McGovern cares about the victims of crime, she sponsored the VICTIMS' BILL OF RIGHTS.

Now, for the first time, victims have the right to tell the judge how a crime has changed their lives, and what they think the criminal's sentence should be.

headquartered in the new Andover Town Hall, said the Chelmsford resident, adding that much of her 20 hour week will undoubtedly be spent at nursing homes and travelling on the road. The local L.I.F.E. chapter, the budget for which is somewhere between $6,000 and $9,000, is supported by donations from local church, civic organizations and town budgets.

Working with the elderly is not new to Prescott. A registered nurse, she was once a supervisor at a 60-bed nursing home in Lowell. Nursing has been an on-again, off-again profession for the mother of two teenagers who is married to a physician with a hematology practice in Chelmsford. Her L.I.F.E. job pulls together a lot of the areas in which Prescott has worked. L.I.F.E. represents the fervent volunteer's first paid job in a while and Prescott confided that she will have to cut down on some of her other work, in order to get her "real work" with L.I.F.E. done.

Prescott is active in the Chelmsford League of Women Voters and the Medical Society Auxiliary, an arm of the Massachusetts Medical Society created for the spouses of physicians. As health education chairman in the Auxiliary, Prescott explained that she can really appreciate the "medical side" of growing old.

"I like working with the elderly," she said. And the L.I.F.E. program will also have her working with nursing home administrators in an effort to "get some of the pressure off them."

While speaking with the the Academy Manor residents on Friday Prescott got her first public speaking tip. She learned that when speaking to many nursing home residents she will have to speak up. When the new L.I.F.E. director was halfway through her presentation she was asked to begin again because a few of those in the meeting room said they hadn't heard a word she said. The conviction of her work was even more believable when Prescott talked about L.I.F.E. a second time, slower and louder to the Academy residents, who will soon come to know their newest advocate very well.

manager, the second-lowest bidder is now contesting that bid.

Mahony said Anchor Construction of Lowell, the first runner-up with a bid of $3.84 million, has claimed that Trust Construction didn't fully comply with bidding regulations.

Anchor plans to bring its charges before the Labor and Industrial board tomorrow, the manager said.

Once the bid has been awarded — whether to Trust Construction or Anchor Construction — construction may begin this fall, the manager told the Reuse Committee earlier this month. The manager promised to return to that committee for a vote on awarding of the bid.

Swimmers Make Waves

Warriors Face Massive Rebuilding This Fall

By Rick Harrison

Faced with perhaps his most massive job in 26 years at the controls of the Andover High varsity football team head Coach Dick Collins and his staff have been putting 82 Golden Warriors grid candidates through their paces for the past 10 days.

Andover High graduated 27 seniors, including all 11 offensive starters and nine of 11 defensive frontliners, from its 1983 team which surprised many observers by chalking up a 7-2-1 record.

Andover handed defending Merrimack Valley Conference champion Dracut its lone loss last fall (23-6), finishing in fourth place, just 1½ games behind the Middies and one game behind co-runners up Chelmsford and Methuen, both 8-2-0.

In fact, the Warriors were only eight points from an undefeated season with the only losses to Methuen (7-0) and Billerica (3-2). The key graduates from that squad are many including running back-linebacker Bob Stabile (now at Maine Central Institute), quarterback Ralph Dellatto, (at the University of Massachusetts), wide receiver Mark Grams (University of Lowell), halfback Pete Comeau (Northeastern), placekicker Charlie Ziegenbein (New Haven), punter-defensive back Mark Nardone (Louisville), defensive back Chris Scarpa (Tufts) and end Glen Markey (Northeastern). Also, linemen Ian Dowe (Holy Cross), Bill Donovan, (Bridgeton Academy), Mike Gibson (St. Petersburg, Fla.), Mike Griffin (Boston College), Mike Surette (military service) and Grant VanAken (military service).

Stabile scored 42 points last year, Grams caught five touchdown passes, Dellatto tossed six scoring aeri-Ziegenbein scored 28 points in 13 conversions and five fieldgoals. Stabile, Grams, Dowe, Donovan, Nardone and Ziegenbein were all-conference choices.

So, Collins and crew are basically starting from scratch, but there are a number of fine athletes in camp that should make Andover's 14th consecutive winning season and 20th in the last 21 years a distinct possibility. The team toiled through the rigorous annual five days of double sessions last week, and has already hosted a pair of pre-season scrimmages at Lovely Field against Greater Lowell Regional (last Saturday) and North Andover (Labor Day).

This week has been spent working on all the rough edges, and a final scrimmage tune-up is scheduled at Wellesley High School this Saturday morning, starting at 10 a.m.

The regular ten game campaign begins a week from Saturday, Sept. 15, when Lowell High School invades Lovely Field for a 1:30 p.m. contest.

Personnel

The two returning players who were regular starters on defense last year are senior tackle and co-captain Brian McAnally (5-11, 180 lbs.) and senior end and co-captain John Barry (5-10, 180 lbs.) They will form the small nucleus on defense this year, while McAnally doubles as an offensive tackle and John Barry as a running back. Expected to join Barry in the starting backfield is junior Mark Polakow (5-9, 170 lbs.) who saw limited varsity time in special situations last season. Four underclassmen have also been impressive during the pre-season workouts, and vying for a berth in the new power-1 setup are junior Rob

DiTroia (5-8, 145 lbs.) sophomore Steve Redgate (5-8, 150 lbs.) sophomore Rich Bourdelais (5-11, 165 lbs.) and sophomore Peter Barry (5-9, 155 lbs.)

DiTroia, Redgate and the younger Barry all have better than average speed and quickness. There is a pleasant dilemma at quarterback, with both senior Shane Smith (6-0, 180 lbs.) and junior Tim Perry (6-1, 165 lbs.) waging a friendly battle for the number one spot.

"They are definitely two of our best athletes," said Collins, "and there is no question we've got to get them both into the lineup. They both throw well, both can run with the football and truthfully they are the equal of any quarterback we've had here in a long time."

Perry is also a fine tailback and will probably occupy that position when the season opens for real.

"If he (Perry) plays tailback it will give us a dimension we've never had before," said Collins, explaining that Perry could do some effective passing from back there.

Perry suffered a serious injury to his right thigh last spring in a freak accident at a track practice, but appears to have fully recovered.

"I've been very pleased with Tim's speed and agility," Collins said. "He went to Jim Stehlin's quarterback camp at Governor Dummer this summer and has showed no signs of leg problems."

The two talented signal-callers will have several sure-handed wide receivers as targets, with junior split end Kevin Rourke (5-9, 145 lbs.) leading the way thus far in pre-season. Rourke, who snagged a half-dozen passes in the North Andover scrimmage, is joined by seniors Chris Madded (5-10, 165 lbs.) Doug Clements

Warriors

(5-8, 145 lbs.) Todd Rockman (5-10, 165 lbs.) and Eric Delourey (6-3, 170 lbs.) The Golden Warriors will also use a tight end this year with senior Keith Driscoll (6-4, 190 lbs.) the leading candidate.

The offensive line is brand new and untested, but in the two early scrimmages this unit has been a pleasant surprise to Collins. Working at tackles have been McAnally, senior Joe Dadiago (6-2, 205 lbs.) and Phil Starks (6-1, 195 lbs.) the top guard prospects are senior Austin Henderson (5-8, 165 lbs.) and Larry Aiello (5-10, 175 lbs.) and junior Bob Manning (6-1, 195 lbs.) has the inside track at center.

Defense

The offense has been ahead of the defense thus far, with virtually every phase of defensive play scheduled to draw special attention from now until the opener in Lowell. John Barry and Driscoll have practically nailed down the starting end slots, while junior Nick Lembo (5-9, 170 lbs.) should also see time there. The linebacker corps includes senior Brian Finnerty (5-8, 155 lbs.), senior Steve Duncan (5-8, 150 lbs.), junior Dave Sullivan (5-10, 170 lbs.), Aiello, Henderson and Bourdelais. Expected to patrol the secondary will be Smith, Perry, DiTroia and junior John Nuzzo (5-7, 150 lbs.).

The defensive interior line will come from a group consisting of sophomore Joe Jarek (5-10, 175 lbs.), junior Ron Geis (6-0, 220 lbs.), senior Steve Comstock (6-2, 190 lbs.), junior Bob Smith (5-10, 233 lbs.), junior John Todt (5-11, 195 lbs.) and junior John Sullivan (6-0, 190 lbs.).

Kicking Game

Collins is excited about the Golden Warriors' kicking game, which has been consistently excellent through the years. Scott Seero, Tom Wilkins, Dave Nardone and Mark Nardone have been among the outstanding AHS punters in the past while Seero, Peter Reilly (current assistant coach) and Ziegenbein have led a host of superb placekickers. Senior Craig Hammond (6-1, 190 lbs.) will handle the placekicking duties this fall, including conversions, kickoffs and fieldgoal attempts. He booted a three-pointer in the North Andover scrimmage, although no pressure was applied by the defense.

"Hammond probably has the best range of any placekicker we've ever had," remarked Collins, who may not hesitate to insert Hammond for some 35- or 40-yard fieldgoal attempts this season.

Either Tim Perry or Todd Rookman will do the punting, and both have looking impressive in practice. Senior Tom Rossnach (5-10, 165 lbs.), unable to play in the line up full-time because of a recurring shoulder problem, will snap for conversions with junior Steve Donahue (5-10, 185 lbs.) performing the same duties on punts. Rourke will be the holder on all placekicks.

Scrimmages

Andover and Greater Lawrence met for the fourth straight year in a scrimmage that has traditionally been of great help to opposing coaches Collins and Dennis Murphy.

Greater-Lowell is a Division V team in the Commonwealth Athletic Conference and last year posted an 8-1-0 record and came very close to playing in the Eastern Massachusetts Super Bowl. The Golden Warriors generally hold out many of their top players in this scrimmage, to help keep the game competitive, and this year was no exception as eight AHS gridders didn't dress for the contest.

"We kept most of our skill people on the sidelines," observed Collins. "It's a good scrimmage for us because we use everybody, and it gives the younger kids a fair chance to show what they can do."

Peter Barry ripped off a strong touchdown run in the same, while sophomore quarterbacks Jamie Clark and Glenn Allard saw plenty of valuable playing time. Junior QB Robbie Carpentier was also off to a good start before suffering an ankle injury in the early going.

Collins was pleased with the overall showing against Greater-Lowell, but came away with a different feelings after the Monday get-together with North Andover. The Scarlet Knights outscored Andover 21-10 in the scrimmage, although points mean very little in pre-season play.

"I was disappointed with our effort," admitted Collins. "Offensively we moved the ball well, proving we're a potentially explosive team. And I thought we received good performances from our defensive ends. But we didn't block well in the offensive backfield and every aspect of the defense needs work. Offensively, although we made mistakes, we have the making of a good football team. We sat in the same defense most of the day, which didn't help, but despite that there is still room for much improvement of defense."

Collins feels the blocking problems in the offensive backfield will be alleviated with the return of Mark Polakow, who was unavailable for that scrimmage.

"He's a tough kid and he hits hard," noted Collins. "He'll make a difference. Overall I'd say our basic strength lies in the skill positions, but we've got to develop an offensive line."

The passing game was sharp against North Andover, with Rourke gathering in several long gainers and Clements making a nice grab late in the scrimmage.

Wrap-Up

The coaching staff remains virtually the same, with Dick Bourdelais the line coach, Bill Vickers the secondary coach, George Sullivan tutoring the linebackers and tight ends, Glen Alsop working with the wide receivers and serving as team trainer and Pete Reilly coaching the kickers on a volunteer basis.

Justin DeMarco is the new varsity-junior varsity assistant, replacing Jerry Shimmel who lives in Canton and resigned to accept an assistant's job in his hometown. Jim Hurley will continue at the freshman helm at Doherty Junior High School with Ken Maglio returning as West Junior High frosh coach.

Collins sees a stronger Merrimack Valley conference this fall, feeling that practically every team will be improved over last year. Methuen, Lawrence Central and Chelmsford are highly-regarded because of their overall size while the AHS skipper believes Lowell, Dracut and Tewksbury could also be legitimate title contenders.

Alumni Edges Varsity

By She Livermore

Former members of various Andover High Varsity Soccer teams represented the school's alumni in the first annual Alumni vs. Varsity soccer team contest, played on the Eugene Lovely field last Saturday. Coached by James DiClemente, the alumni prevailed, 2 to 1, although this year's varsity soccer team made them work hard for their narrow victory.

In the first five minutes of the contest the alumni (the Blue) pressed and took the game to the varsity team (wearing Gold) but the Gold soon met the challenge and started bringing the ball down to their end. The Gold penetrated the Blue defense a couple of times and attempted to score, with their shots going wide of the net.

Midway through the first half Hoan Dang scored on a long shot, to put the Blue ahead 1 to 0. Ten minutes later David Keene sent the ball towards the Blue net on a perfect kick. Several Gold players tried to get their foot on it for the shot on net as the Blue defense and goalkeeper Brian Sheehy attempted to clear it. Paul Hevehan spotted the loose ball, put his foot on it and blasted it into the open net, making it a tied game, 1-1.

One minute into the second half, with the advantage of having played together as a team (albeit for only forty-five minutes!) the Blue surprised the gold defense and went ahead 2-1 when Dang found the range again and made a perfect show which went sailing in over keeper Brian Cronin's outstretched hands. The Gold made some excellent attempts throughout the rest of the contest to deny the alumni the victory, without success, including a shot which hit the crossbar with seconds left in the game.

Football Parents To Meet

The first meeting of the Andover Football Parents Association for this year's 1984 season will be held this Monday, Sept. 10, at 7:30 p.m., at Andover High School, Shawsheen Street.

Anyone interested in helping the organization is encouraged to attend the meeting. Contact John Barry for more information.

Arthritis

"Update on Arthritis" opens the fall health education series at New England Memorial Hospital in Stoneham, September 20 at 7 p.m. in the hospital auditorium. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Dr. Matthew Heller will describe how the diagnosis of arthritis is made, the economic impact of the disease, common misconceptions about arthritis and the various means of treating it.

Dr. Heller has practiced rheumatology on the North Shore for the past nine years. He has conducted research on new drugs for arthritis and done much to further public knowledge on the subject through published papers and TV appearances.

A film, "Wherever You Are," starring Henry Fonda, will precede the lecture.

There were at least 52 musicians in the family of famous composer Johann Sebastian Bach.

Youth Dominates Tourney

It was "youth to the fore" in the singles finals of the Essex County Tennis Tournament held over last weekend at the North Andover Country Club as two 17-year-old competitors gave a superb demonstration of hard-hitting tennis.

The winner and first-time champion was Paul Palandjian of Belmont, who is expected to be ranked at men's number two in New England, just starting his freshmen year at Harvard. He defeated Gordie Ernst of Cranston, R.I., 6-2, 6-3, who will shortly commence his senior year at East Providence High School.

It was a typical atomic driving contest with flat or very slightly topped forehands and backhands either topped or sliced, excellent court covering, and scarcely a shot more than six inches above the net except infrequent overheads. Due to the rain Monday morning, the final was contested in the superb indoor Willows Racquet Club courts.

Andover-trained but now of Natick, and six-time singles finalist Chris Post played his constant superb driving game, but lost to G. Ernst in a most excellent semi-final, 7-6, 6-3.

Keith Sampson of Andover also suffered a loss to G. Ernst in the second round 6-2, 6-1.

Two North Andover players also contested with Les Sheppard being defeated by John Harmon of Tewksbury 6-1, 6-2; and John Niceforo, having another spectacular win in doubles, but losing in the third round of singles to Peter Lovell of Boston, 6-4, 6-3.

All other singles competitors were from more distant locations with the exception of James Santoro of Wakefield who defeated Milton Ossorio of Westport, Conn., in the second round before losing to C. Post in the third round.

The doubles had more of an Andover flavor with Jeff Riotte, paired with Bob Bleicki of North Andover, who lost 6-4, 6-3, to Roger Stern of Woodmere, N.Y., and Joe Bernard of Springfield; Keith Sampson who paired with Dr. Jack Bowers of North Andover, losing to Ben Unger of West Hartford, Conn., and Josh Weisman of Rye, N.Y. in a long 6-7, 6-3, 6-4 battle; and Harry Church who paired with Dick Karsburg of Holden, losing to the seasoned campaigners, Rick Page of Newburyport and Steve Therrien of Bradford.

The doubles final was completed Monday afternoon outdoors on the fast drying North Andover Country Club courts with John Niceforo of North Andover gathering in his second in a row title, but not with Bill Cashman of Madison, Conn., as in 1983. This time he paired with Wayne Peterson of Amherst to defeat the Revere team of John DeDomenico and Keith Collar 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, with both teams lobbing against opposing smashes on the majority of the points. It was doubles at its best with both teams fighting to retain or gain the forecourt position from which most points were won.

A longtime spectator for these Essex County championships called the 1984 edition one of the very best in recent years.

Junior Grid Registration

The Andover Junior Football League will celebrate its 22nd year with registration for this fall's season on Saturday, Sept. 8, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and on Sunday, Sept. 9, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Registration will take place at the Doherty Junior High School at the Bartlet Street entrance. Boys age 10 to 13 will be eligible to play. There will be approximately four to six teams this year and the schedule will include six games, the first of which is set for Sept. 23, at 1 p.m.

The introduction of all players and coaches will take place at 12 noon. Head coach Richard Collins of the Andover High School Golden Warriors will be on hand to open the season.

The Andover Junior Football league program is unique in that it incorporates a special third quarter rule within the game. The intent of the rule is to insure that every player of each team plays at least one quarter of every scheduled game. It is also the intent of league organizers that the 11 boys of the least experience on each team play in the third quarter.

Registration is $30. If more than one boy from a family registers the fee is: two players, $45; more than two boys, $50, the maximum amount charged. All boys must bring a copy of a physician's physical to the registration.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Gold Babe Ruth baseball teams will hold their annual fall tryouts on Saturday, Sept. 16 and Sunday, Sept. 23 at the Doherty Junior High School field.

Both practices will run from 1 to 4 p.m., with all 13 year-old candidates asked to report at 1 p.m. and 14 and 15 year-olds at 2:30 p.m.

All Andover youngsters who will not turn 16 prior to August 1, 1985 are eligible. All 15 positions on both teams (there are 30 spots overall) are open, with returning players having to earn their way back on the squads. Both the Blue and Gold teams have definite openings in the 15 year-old bracket because former players have moved out of town.

Andover Gold won its third Greater Lawrence League championship in four years this past summer (17-4 overall), and a combination of Blue and Gold players also captured the championship of the Waltham Invitational Tournament (14 year-old division) as well as reaching the semifinals in the Chelmsford Elks (14-15 year olds), Winthrop Invitational (14 year-old) and Waltham (13 year-old) tournaments (11-6 overall record).

All candidates should bring both spikes and gloves to the tryouts. For further information call Rick Harrison at 475-2007.

Orlando To Play In Germany

After an outstanding collegiate career Todd Orlando a former Bentley College basketball star, has decided to play professional basketball in West Germany.

The 6'10" center, a native of Andover, signed with the Cologne, Germany, team which is considered one of the top three in the country. The team is coached by Ralph Klein, who was the West German Olympic team coach.

Orlando, a second-team Division II All-American, was a fifth-round draft choice of the World Champion Boston Celtics. Due to the early start of the West German basketball season, he was forced to forego the Celtics' rookie camp.

He finished his career as the second leading scorer in the Waltham college's history, behind only his coach Brian Hammel. In addition to scoring 1,671 points, the Andover High School grad pulled down more than 1,000 rebounds for the Falcons.

Singers To Rehearse

Brush up your singing voice for the Andover Choral Society's first rehearsal for their fall program.

The group will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 7:30 p.m., in the music room at Andover High School's Collins Center. Anyone interested in singing with the group is invited to attend the first meeting.

Therapy Workshops Scheduled

Dr. Larry Larsen, in cooperation with the school systems of the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative - Andover, North Andover, Methuen, Lawrence and Haverhill - is sponsoring a two-day workshop, Sept. 13 and 14, in Cognitive Therapy. The workshop leader will be Dr. Donald Meichenbaum of the University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, author of "Cognitive Behavior Modification: An Integrative Approach."

Clinical psychologists, school psychologists, psychiatric social workers and special education teachers from Larsen Associates and the five school systems will learn new techniques for working with children and adolescents in such problems as phobias, anxiety, stress reaction, self-control and socialization skills.

Museum Director Jan Fontein today announced that the National Endowment for the Humanities has awarded the Museum of Fine Arts a $200,000 grant to support the exhibition Art for the Indian Rulers. The exhibition, scheduled to open in November 1985, is organized in conjunction with the "Festival of India," a two year cultural and academic exchange between India and the United States which began in 1984.

"The Museum is pleased that the National Endowment for the Humanities has agreed to support this exhibition which is our contribution to the 'Festival of India' celebration in the United States," said Mr. Fontein. He went on to note that the Museum's participation in the program is especially fitting since, within the Museum's world-renowned Department of Asian Art, "the collection of Indian paintings is exceptionally strong."

Art for the Indian Rulers is designed to explore medieval courtly life as expressed in Indian secular painting - one of the most prevalent themes in later Indian art. The exhibition will consist of approximately 100 paintings including formal and informal portraits and sketches of Mughal and Rajput rulers, courtiers and genre scenes depicting the more intimate and unusual aspects of Indian life. Of special interest will be a section of related objects and implements comparable to those seen in the paintings to both enliven the pictures for the visitors and underscore the show's theme. The section will include small jade, metal and glass pieces as well as jewelry and textiles.

The works selected for this exhibition will be drawn from public and private collections in the U. S., India, England and Australia and confined to only the finest secular Indian paintings that are not frequently seen or published.

The hot lunch program has resumed at the senior center, and you may partake of its goodies by calling the center the day before you plan to go, to make your reservation, which is absolutely essential!

Wendell Coltin, Senior Citizen Advisor of the Mass. Blue Cross-Blue Shield, will be at the center Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 12:45 to speak, to advise on related problems. Everyone is urged to attend.

Sept. 14 is the last day to register for the next free cheese distribution. Even though you may have registered for previous cheese distributions you must register again. Distribution days Sept. 26.

The date for the Senior Center Flea Market has been changed to Oct. 13. Items to be contributed to the sale may be brought to the center after Oct. 1, except for baked goods which will not be accepted until Oct. 12. Your support through contributions and then purchases is needed. Proceeds go to programs at the center.

Did you receive the September Newsletter in the mail? You'll note all the new classes listed for the fall. Registration for classes gets underway Sept. 12. You're sure to find something you'd like to learn or do!

There are only 11 seats left for the "Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show" at the North Shore Music Theatre, Sept. 12, with lunch at the King's Grant Inn, and all for $25.

Monday, Sept. 10, is the date of the September Birthday Party. Everyone is invited. The more the merrier, to help the September people celebrate their birthdays. The festivities begin at 12:45, right after lunch. Come on down!

Do you have your tickets for the British Fling, Saturday, Sept. 22? It starts at 5:30 p.m. at the senior center, and in addition to a roast beef dinner, Clan McPherson will be there to entertain you. You'll love it! Get your tickets today. They are $6 a piece.

The following Saturday, Sept. 29, you will have an opportunity to enjoy an Oktoberfest at Crooked Mountain, with German food, and an old-fashioned "Oom-pah-pah" band. Cost is $22 for the works!

At 1:45 every Friday afternoon you may play BINGO at the center. There are free refreshments, and fun with friends. Try it, you'll like it!

And Wednesday mornings, you are invited to join us at the Bowling Alleys on Park Street at 10 o'clock to bowl. Cost is only $2 and it's good exercise. No previous arrangements need be made. Just show up!

Polo

On Sunday, Sept. 9, at 2 p.m., Myopia Polo in Hamilton will hold The Geyser Peak Winery Senior's Cup Invitational Polo Tournament and Winetasting to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

The main event, The Geyser Peak Senior's Cup Invitational, will begin at 3 p.m.

Tickets are available at the March of Dimes, 865 Providence Highway, Dedham, MA 02026.

We like to continue to believe what we have been accustomed to accept as true and the resentment aroused when doubt is cast upon any of our assumptions leads us to seek every manner of excuse for clinging to them. The result is that most of our so-called reasoning consists in finding arguments for going on believing as we already do.

By the end of the decade, cars will be reshaped by advanced aerodynamic principles. But you don't have to wait.

From Audi's German engineers: the 5000S sedan.

Audi While the sleek, aerodynamic designs of other car makers are still in early prototype stages, this stunning luxury sedan from Audi's German engineers is in production and available now.

The Most Aerodynamic Luxury Sedan America Has Ever Driven. Refined in European wind tunnels, the Audi 5000S slices through air with an ease and agility that are outstanding for a luxury sedan.

So "air slippery" is the design, that tracking and directional control are maintained even in severe crosswinds. Acceleration to 50 mph is accomplished in 8.0 exhilarating seconds. Handling and cornering are close to what you would expect from exotic sports cars—the result of advanced front-wheel drive technology and a performance-tuned suspension.

Inside the sumptuous interior an almost eerie quiet prevails. Gracefully curved windows mounted flush with the roofline all but eliminate wind noise.

Superior Quality Backed By A Superior Warranty. To insure the quality of the 5000S, we tested it over 3.2 million kilometers in Europe, Africa and North America. So dependable is this automobile, we've covered it with an outstanding 24-month/limited warranty with unlimited mileage. See your dealer for details and a test drive.

The Sport Shop - Sports For All Seasons

The hot weather is almost a memory and with the return of autumn comes the return of many fall sports. When looking for your sports equipment, turn to the Sport Shop, 92 Main Street, Andover. It's your complete sports store owned and run by the Teichert family.

For almost every sport you play you need a shoe. And the Sport Shop has over 100 different styles of shoes including cleats. Their new shoe wall has the largest selection of sport shoes in Andover. With famous brands such as Nike, New Balance, Spot Bilt, Adidas and Saucony, you'll find the type of shoe you need for running, tennis, football, soccer, even aerobics.

The Sport Shop is your back-to-school sports headquarters, too. They stock the required gym suits for Andover, North Andover, Pike School and Phillips Academy. They also carry a complete line of football equipment for all the local leagues, soccer equipment, field hockey and lacrosse equipment.

Get out to see the foliage this fall - go bike touring. The bike department at the Sport Shop includes a complete bike repair shop as well as accessories. You'll also find bikes to suit the needs of every rider - racing, touring, commuting and motor-cross.

The first snowfall won't be far away for long. Get your ski equipment ready now so you won't miss one minute of powder. The Sport Shop ski equipment includes both downhill and cross country ski equipment. Take advantage of their "ski tune ups" to get your equipment refinished.

They carry a complete line of tennis supplies including racquets, sneakers and clothing. If you're in the market for a new racquet, they feature the latest by Head, Prince, Yonex, Wilson, Dunlop, Donnay and Kennex. They also do restringing.

Stop by the Sport Shop where you'll even find a complete line of dartboards and accessories—they have it all. Open Mon.-Sat. 9-5; Fri. til 9. Tel. 475-7176.

Frames Unlimited

Hello...The Steinbergs of Frames Unlimited, Shawshoon Plaza, Andover, invite you to see the newest frames from M.W. Carr, manufacturers of Fine Photo Frames since 1869. Mr. Steinberg shows samples of their extensive selection in the picture above.

The newest additions to the selection are suede and leather frames.

It is truly amazing how many unusual objects we have framed for our ever expanding clientele in the years that we have been here.

A few of the items which come to mind are: fans, crew-shirts, oriental pieces of many descriptions, rubbings, dresses, memorabilia, plates, driftwood—the list is almost endless.

Our shop also stocks many prints and graphics including choices from several books.

We are conveniently located in Shawshoon Plaza. We are closed Sunday and Monday, but are open Tuesday through Saturday and Thursday and Friday until 9:00 p.m.

We will answer any questions you may have. Just phone 470-0432.

HOUSE STYLE VS. PRICE

Unless you have a very definite idea about the kind of house you want, the style may be less important than location and price. Many people are attracted to the traditional two-story colonial, while others prefer more contemporary designs, such as split-levels or ranch-style houses. The style, however, will probably make a difference in the price.

According to building experts, the two-story house is the least expensive to build per square foot when measured as the cost of living area. It gives double the space of a ranch unit, for example, for the same amount of land. It is also less expensive to add a second story than to build a floor and foundation to extend the living area.

Whatever your preference in style or price, let your Realtor help you make the most satisfying buy for the money.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 5 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

SELLING YOUR HOUSE

By Lou Patracone

BURNING THE MORTGAGE

Burning the mortgage has often been a joyful ceremony; after 20 or 30 years of monthly payments, a family might celebrate paying off the loan with a small conflagration.

In Canada, a lender has turned mortgage burning into a promotional gimmick. Once a month the company chooses one of its mortgages to burn, and forgives the loan up to $100,000 (Canadian).

Actually, "mortgage burnings" aren't common these days. In our mobile society, a family rarely stays put through the long term of a mortgage. Often job transfers are the reason.

If you're moving to take a new position, or just because you'd like to move up to a nicer house, count on an experienced real estate agent to turn your home equity into cash and maximize your return.

Because we're constantly in touch with market forces, we know the market value of your property. You won't run the risk of losing out on capital appreciation because you've underpriced your home or - equally distressing - sitting with a stale listing because it's overpriced.

guard, travels from lot to lot each day from 5:30 to 8:30 a.m., and again from 4:30 to 7 p.m., bringing workers to and from the building. When that guard isn't driving, another is on duty in the lots, said Poliquin.

"Those cars that were vandalized were way down in the boonies," said the security director at Gould. "It's near the railroad tracks where kids hang out. And it is a short cut to downtown for the kids." The amount of damage at Gould-Modicon is low compared to the cars that drive in and out each day, he added.

YOUR HOME IS A CREDIT TO YOU

-when you have an Equity Reserve account.

Write a check for up to $100,000 to finance almost anything. That's Equity Reserve. Now your credit's not only good; it's great.

Bank of New England-Bay State takes the equity you've built up in your home and makes it work for you. Use it to invest. Pay off an old debt. Back an education. Or take advantage of those rare opportunities that come your way.

How much is your home worth? We'll appraise it, subtract any mortgages owed, and make credit available for up to 75% of the difference. Use as much as you need, when you need it. The rate you pay varies monthly and is the prime rate published in The Wall Street

Journal on our last business day of each month, plus 1 1/2%. And you can repay as little as 2% per month. Of course, if you never use it, you're never charged.

At Bank of New England-Bay State, borrowing on your Equity Reserve Credit is as simple as writing a check. Or get a cash advance through your New England Banker card. Either way, Equity Reserve is the most up-to-date money management tool there is.

If you're a homeowner, you can apply for an Equity Reserve account at any office of Bank of New England or send in the coupon below.

Once you've got it, you've got it made.
